

Who Will Go For Us?

As we reflect on this question, we find a profound call to action in the words of Isaiah,

*“Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?
Then said I, Here am I; send me” (Isaiah 6:8).*

This powerful declaration resonates deeply with the mission and work we are committed to.

Over ten years ago, I made the life-changing decision to dedicate myself to preaching and teaching God's Word. Supported wholeheartedly by my wife and son, I left behind a successful career to serve our Lord. We have been blessed with God's unwavering presence and the steadfast support of faithful brethren who share our vision.

Our mission has only grown stronger and busier. Recently, we collaborated with Rob Whitacre in Dayton, OH, to train congregations in evangelism, serving both English-speaking and Hispanic communities. This July, I will speak at Polishing the Pulpit in Branson, MO, and then head to the Rio Grande Valley for a conference aimed at empowering Hispanic congregations with the School's resources. This work extends internationally, with campaigns in Latin America utilizing our materials. The School's efforts have made a significant impact, and taking into consideration how strong Catholicism is in the Hispanic culture, two new videos on the Apocrypha and the book of Enoch have been released on buscandolaverdad.org.

“Here am I. Send me!” This is not merely a historical statement; it is a call to each of us today. Every day, we have the chance to be messengers of God's love, justice, and truth. If you have been supporting the School, thank you from the bottom of our hearts. Your contributions have been invaluable.

However, the need is great, and the work is immense, especially in the Spanish-speaking world. We humbly ask you to continue praying for open doors and consider providing a financial contribution to this vital work of the Lord. Together, we can make a profound difference, and as Isaiah did, let us be bold in saying “Here we are, Lord, send us”.

If you would like to know more about the School, please consider visiting our English website, spanishbibleschool.org, and look at what the School offers. You can also find a section on the website if you would like to donate online to this work.

May God bless you and your family richly today, and always!

To Him be the glory!
