

A BROKEN CLOCK ...

Some say, "A broken clock is right twice a day." Years ago, I heard this phrase from some well-meaning brethren, often used to justify the use of denominational tools and sources. "They may not have the full truth," the thinking goes, "but they got this part right." While the phrase is technically true, it's also true that there are 1,440 minutes in a day—and a broken clock is wrong during 1,438 of them. God didn't call us to be occasionally right. He called us to walk in the truth (3 John 4), and to help others do the same. Jesus said,

"And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free" (John 8:32).

The world doesn't need partial truth or fleeting accuracy. It needs the full, reliable message of the Gospel—truth all the time, not just two minutes a day. That's why we are committed to providing Bible resources that aren't borrowed or patched together, but built upon the foundation of God's Word—designed to glorify Him and to teach truth clearly, faithfully, and respectfully. And that's why your support matters. Through your prayers, encouragement, and generosity, you help people around the world turn away from broken clocks and discover trustworthy, Bible-centered teaching.

A gentleman from Spain recently wrote to us:

"This is the first time I have contacted you. I want to hear what the Word of God is and examine it. Thank you, and God bless you."

As I write this newsletter, we're finalizing the recordings for our Thessalonians courses, along with several other topical videos—including our first Studies for Women series on "The Christian Woman." We are especially thankful to my wife, Jacky, for stepping out of her comfort zone to deliver such an exciting and encouraging study for ladies. We're also preparing for Polishing the Pulpit (PTP) in Branson, MO, where we'll be offering 27 Spanish lessons based on the Sermon on the Mount this July. Please pray not only for the success of this event, but for the opportunity to strengthen our Hispanic brethren and equip them with the tools they need to help fulfill the Great Commission.

We are busy—but we are blessed. And we're deeply grateful to God—and to you—for making this work possible. Let us never settle for being right twice a day. Let us walk in the light, speak the truth, and give God the glory—all 1,440 minutes of each day. Please visit spanishbibleschool.org to learn more about this work of the Lord—or donate online.

May God bless you and your family richly today, and always!
To Him be the glory!
